November 18, 2015

Dear Colleagues:

On behalf of the California Industrial Hygiene Council Board, I welcome you to the 25th annual conference of the CIHC. The Council represents California's five AIHA Local Sections in the Sacramento State Capitol and beyond, with a very clear mission:

- Promote the Industrial Hygiene profession in California.
- Increase recognition of Industrial Hygiene in legislative and regulatory actions.
- Promote and provide sound scientific and technologic input for the legislative and regulatory processes.

Twenty five years ago, a group of industrial hygienists met in Sacramento to talk about the state of the profession, learn about the legislative process, and how to influence it. They affixed buttons to their clothes with the phrase "What is an industrial hygienist?" and spent the day walking the Capitol corridors educating legislators and their staff about the profession. The results of these initial efforts ultimately led to Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) title protection, definition of industrial hygiene in the Business and Professions code, and additional regulatory and legislative recognition of the important role industrial hygienists play in the anticipation, recognition, evaluation, and control of hazards in the workplace and environment.

However, our work is not done. As new laws and regulations are proposed, it is important for industrial hygienists to continue to be active in the process and ensure our contributions continue to be recognized. The need to educate legislators and their staff about "What is an industrial hygienist?" is no less important today than it was 25 years ago.

The CIHC is here for you! If you have any issues that you think can benefit from CIHC action, please contact a CIHC Board member.

Sincerely,

Edward J. Klinenberg, Ph.D., MBA, MS, CIH

Overview of CIHC

Purpose

- Establish a legislative presence in the State Capitol through professional representation
- Keep the industrial hygiene profession intact by opposing any further erosion or limitation of practice by legislation or regulation
- Seek recognition in statutes defining, recognizing, and protecting the profession of industrial hygiene
- Provide sound scientific and technological input to the legislative and regulatory process

Legislative Services

- CIHC contracts with Sacramento Advocacy to provide legislative support
- Professional legislative support is essential especially during the current state economic climate where many health and safety programs are or have been considered for elimination or modification
- CIHC Directors, representing five local American Industrial Hygiene Associations (AIHA), volunteer their time to support CIHC activities

Activities

- Review and monitor legislation (this past year, the CIHC Board screened 350 bills and actively monitored 40 bills which may impact the industrial hygiene profession)
- Sponsor legislation
- Review regulations
- Sponsor the annual CIHC Conference
- Coordinate with AIHA National Governmental Affairs

Major Accomplishments

- Defined Industrial Hygienist in State Law (H&S Code 117672)
- Initiated and sponsored the Industrial Hygienist Definition and Registration Act (B&P Code Sections 20700-20705)
- Established a legislative presence in Sacramento
- Negotiated by reducing the number of days for lead training course for CIHs to three days
- Negotiated the exemption for Trauma Scene Waste Management Practitioner requirement
- Monitored rewrite of the Professional Engineers Act
- Sponsored laboratory accreditation legislation
- Sponsored successful legislation to allow a CIH or other qualified professional to provide lead poisoning prevention services
- Garnered strategic legislative amendments to the Toxic Mold Protection Act of 2001 assuring the participation of IH's in developing standards to identify, evaluate, and abate mold
- Provided comments to a wide range of regulations: heat illness prevention, green chemistry, lead in construction and general industry, globally harmonized hazard communication systems, housekeeping in hotel and hospitality facilities, and building standards

Annual CIHC Conference

- Provides a statewide forum to discuss issues of concern to the industrial hygiene profession
- Provides educational opportunities for industrial hygienists and allied professionals
- Strengthens ties and establish alliance among the occupational health and safety professionals
- Provides an opportunity to consult, network, collaborate among industrial hygienists and other professionals
- Raises funds to support the CIHC organization by continuing services provided by Sacramento Advocacy

Welcome from Conference Co-Chairs

Welcome to the 25th Annual CIHC Conference!

It is our pleasure to co-chair the 25th Annual California Industrial Hygiene Conference in San Francisco, and to welcome our colleagues in the California environmental, health and safety community, including scientists, regulators and industry representatives. We hope you will enjoy this opportunity to meet and connect with your friends and colleagues from around California and elsewhere to discuss the ever-changing landscape of our field and learn about best practices, while fulfilling your personal goals for attending this year's milestone conference.

We know that the success of the conference ultimately depends on the many people who have worked with us in planning and organizing both the technical program and supporting social arrangements. In particular, we would like to thank the Session Arrangers for their diligence and well-placed suggestions on organizing the technical program; the Conference Committee for their hard work on planning and organizing the many logistical details, and our Sponsors who help us keep the "price of admission" reasonable for all conference participants.

In keeping with the "Challenges for EHS Practice in Today's Environment" conference theme this year, we are moving ever closer to a paperless conference as our Gen Y members encourage us to be more electronic. Attendees can access presentations and materials via the CIHC website to reduce paper use, and we will have only electronic evaluations this year.

If you are collecting hours or points for your CIH or CSP professional certifications, be sure to sign in at the registration table when you pick up your badge and program materials. If you are collecting hours for the REHS professional certification, be sure to sign in at the registration table each day so that your attendance certificate reflects all days attended.

Please feel free to connect with us, any of the CIHC Board members, or the conference volunteers if you have any questions about the program. We value your input on this year's conference, and use our attendees' comments for improvements in the future. Please take a few minutes to complete a conference evaluation. Conference and individual session evaluations are available online at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/CIHC2015>

We hope you enjoy this educational opportunity designed especially for you! Thank you for being here as we celebrate 25 terrific years of support for the California IH Community!

Key California EHS Issues

Karen J. Nardi, Esq

Partner
Arnold Porter, LLP

Karen Nardi is a Partner in Arnold & Porter's San Francisco office, where she is a member of the Environmental Practice Group. She counsels clients on environmental regulations and represents them in enforcement actions. She also works with companies to manage liabilities in business transactions.

Ms. Nardi dedicates a significant part of her practice to OSHA issues and industrial safety. She counsels clients on compliance with safety laws and helps them resolve OSHA citations. She also helps clients investigate serious injury accidents and manage the resulting enforcement and third party claims. She has assisted a number of clients in coordinating emergency response, notification, and internal investigations in connection with serious fires, explosions, and fatality accidents. She has experience with audits involving industrial process safety and emergency response.

A poll published by GC California magazine in December 2008 named Ms. Nardi the top environmental compliance attorney in California. She has also been included in the Super Lawyers list of Northern California's top attorneys eleven years in a row. In the 2012 edition of Chambers, she was praised as a go-to expert for compliance and enforcement issues, and clients noted that she "knows practical solutions because of her superb experience."

Ms. Nardi holds a Master's degree in Public Policy from the Goldman School at UC Berkeley. She has been a legislative analyst for the California State Assembly and an intern at the Congressional Budget Office in Washington, DC. She is co-author of several books, including the Environmental Law Handbook and Brownfields Law and Practice.

What's Next- Drivers and Trends Shaping a Future that Won't Resemble the Past

Mary O'Hara-Devereaux, PhD

Founder and CEO
Global Foresight

Dr. Mary O'Hara-Devereaux is one of the world's leading futurists. A legendary trend-spotter and steady-eyed business forecaster, over the last 25 years she has established a global reputation for helping thousands of leaders and senior executives worldwide scan, scout, and steer their way to targets no one else can see.

The author of the best-selling Navigating the Badlands: Thriving in the Decade of Radical Transformation and China Five-Year Forecast: Creating the New Marketplace, Mary correctly forecast the dramatic upheavals now taking place in the business and social landscape.

Now—in profound, provocative, pragmatic dispatches from the frontlines of the future—she uses her deep cross-industry, cross-cultural expertise to deconstruct the economic and social fault lines that are shaping a turbulent new phase of global transformation.

Mary has consulted with clients ranging from Fortune 100 companies like Procter & Gamble, Intel, and Coca-Cola to Chinese giants such as CITIC-Pacific and preeminent non-profits like the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the University of California.

She is a top-rated keynote speaker for organizations ranging from Apple, Inc., Levi Strauss & Co., Oracle, Merck, and China Merchant Bank to the Milken Global Institute, Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government, and the National Council on Aging.

Mary is founder and CEO of Global Foresight, a think tank and strategy consulting firm in San Francisco. She served as a senior director at Silicon Valley's Institute for the Future, a spin-off of the Rand Corporation. Recently she was a professor at Peking University, with previous faculty positions at the University of California and the University of Hawaii. She serves on a number of company and non-profit boards and chairs a CEO Group in San Francisco.

Mary appears on Bloomberg TV; Fox Television; CCTV in China; National Public Radio; and in the Asian Wall Street Journal, the Los Angeles Times, and other prominent publications.

Lead Certifications

Kathy Jones, CIH, CAC, CIAQM

Vice President
Health Science Associates

Kathy S. Jones is Vice President of Health Science Associates (HSA), a full service Industrial Hygiene and Environmental consulting firm. Ms. Jones is a Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) in Chemical Aspects, a Certified Indoor Air Quality Manager (CIAQM), a California Certified Asbestos Consultant (CAC), and a California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Lead Inspector/Assessor, Project Monitor and Project Designer. Her duties include project management, quality control, professional development, field investigations, report writing, expert witness testimony, etc. Kathy has a Bachelors degree in Chemistry with an emphasis in analytical chemistry and criminalistics from California State University, Fresno (1975).

Ms. Jones started her Industrial Hygiene profession when she was hired by HSA in 1978. Kathy developed HSA's industrial hygiene laboratory from a single person laboratory to a staff of 30 full-time chemists operating seven days per week, 18 hours per day and secured certifications and accreditations including full AIHA Laboratory Accreditation, State of California Drinking Water and Hazardous Waste Certification and National Institutes for Standards and Technology Accreditation in Bulk and Airborne Asbestos Analysis. At the time that Ms. Jones left HSA's laboratory in 1991, business operations included offices in northern and southern California and a staff of over 60 persons.

From 1991 - 1996 Ms. Jones directed her career more towards direct client consultation services and joined her husband in TOSHCO, a small Environmental Health and Safety consulting business. During this time she provided technical consultation and assistance to other health and safety professionals, provided training through the University and other company environments, and provided Phase I environmental site assessments along with other Industrial Hygiene sampling and analyses.

In 1995, Ms. Jones was offered the opportunity to be a Site Assessor for the American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA) when AIHA became one of the two initially approved accreditation bodies participating in the National Lead Laboratory Accreditation Program (NLLAP) as established by EPA under Title X. Since that time Ms. Jones has been an active AIHA-LAP, LLC site assessor, evaluating laboratories seeking accreditation or re-accreditation within the Industrial Hygiene and/or Environmental Lead accreditation scopes.

In 1996, Ms. Jones returned to employment with HSA and worked as a full time consultant and project manager from 1996 until 2004. From 2004 to the present, Ms. Jones has taken on the responsibilities of Vice President at HSA, helping manage the development, growth and delivery of HSA's variety of occupational health, safety and environmental services.

Advancing California's Workplace, Safety and Health in the 21st Century

Christine Baker

Director

State of California-Department of Industrial Relations

Christine Baker is the first woman to serve as director of the Department of Industrial Relations (DIR).

Ms. Baker is renowned for innovative targeting in fighting fraud and the underground economy. Her experience comes from working with labor and management as chief of the Division of Labor Statistics and Research (1984-89), the deputy director for the Division of Workers' Compensation (1990-94), and the executive officer of the California Commission on Health and Safety and Workers' Compensation from its inception in 1994 until April 2011. During her tenure as executive officer, the commission's role expanded to overseeing the health, safety and workers' compensation systems in California and recommending administrative and legislative changes for improvement. In April 2011, Christine was named acting director of DIR and was appointed director by Gov. Brown in December. The Senate Rules Committee voted unanimously to confirm her appointment in May 2012.

As director, Christine serves as the state administrator of Apprenticeship, the administrator of the state OSHA Plan, an ex officio member of the California Self-Insurers' Security Fund and an ex officio member of the State Fund board of directors.

Ms. Baker is president-elect of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards & Commissions (IAIABC), and has chaired the California Insurance Commissioner's Workers' Compensation Fraud Focus Group and the advisory committee of the International Forum on Disability Management.

Ms. Baker is the recipient of numerous awards. Small Business California recognized Christine as one of its 2008 Small Business Heroes. In 2012, she received the Human Rights Award from the League of United Latin American Citizens. The Department of Industrial Relations, which she now heads, improves working conditions for California's wage earners, and advances opportunities for profitable employment. DIR divisions include Cal/OSHA, the Labor Commissioner's Office, the Division of Workers' Compensation, the Division of Apprenticeship Standards and six boards, commissions and programs. DIR is a department within the California Labor & Workforce Development Agency.

Ms. Baker earned a master's degree and Ph.D. candidacy at the School of Education, University of California, Berkeley. She resides in Berkeley.

Building a Solid Foundation: A Well-Rested Workforce is a Safer Workforce

Kelcey Trefethen

Associate Consultant
EORM/BSI

Kelcey Trefethen is certified in Healthcare Environmental Management (HEM) and is currently an associate consultant in Environmental, Health and Safety (EH&S) specializing in Healthcare at Environmental Occupational Risk Management (EORM)/British Standards Institute (BSI). She received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Environmental Science and Studies from Sonoma State University and has studied Environmental Health at California Polytechnic State University. She holds a Master's degree in Secondary Education and Teaching in Earth Science from the University of San Francisco. Currently, Kelcey is a member of USF's Women's Leadership and Philanthropy Group and is a mentor for USF's undergraduate program.

Kelcey has over 10 years of experience in the field of Environmental, Health & Safety with focus in the healthcare arena, working for companies such as Kaiser Permanente where she was responsible for successful EH&S program implementation and continuous improvement in areas such as international hazard communication, industrial hygiene and regulatory compliance. Kelcey's current passion is in the field of Wellness as it relates to Occupational Safety & Health and Industrial Hygiene. Her current consulting efforts include providing expertise in designing highly productive, healthy (well-rested), and sustainable workplace environments that focus on risk prevention, innovation and connection and promote a thriving working culture.

Kelcey has recently been involved in education related to sleep hygiene, total health and wellness for graduate students in support of research on meditation and mindfulness at the University of Arizona with Dr. Charles Raison and Stuart Moody. Although expanding her expertise into the arena of health and wellness, Kelcey is still an active EH&S professional and industrial hygienist and is a current member of the American Industrial Hygiene Association. Since 2008, Kelcey has been an active member and served as a committee member and was chair of AIHA's Stewardship and Sustainability Committee 2012.

Kelcey is excited to be at EORM/BSI and very proud to be an associate consultant who believes in making a positive impact on the world every day and looks forward to making excellence a habit.

The Challenge of Working With Unknown, Potent & Toxic Compounds

John Farris, CIH
President & CEO
Safebridge Consultants, Inc.

John Farris, CIH, is the leader of, SafeBridge Consultants, a professional technical firm of scientific and engineering consultants providing environmental health and safety services to pharmaceutical, chemical, biotechnology and other industries. He is a recognized expert in the safe handling of potent pharmaceutical compounds (which rarely have occupational exposure limits), he has authored numerous papers, and he frequently lectures on the subject of working with and understanding chemicals that have little substantive data.

Formerly, Mr. Farris was responsible for managing and leading the Syntex EH&S Center. He was vice president of Syntex (U.S.A.) Inc. and President of Agribusiness Technologies Inc., a Syntex subsidiary involved in environmental remediation. The Syntex EH&S Center was a group of senior safety, health and environmental professionals that provided specialized consultative services to selected Syntex and Roche clients as well as other parties.

Previously, he was the Vice President of the Corporate Environmental Health and Safety Division of Syntex with world-wide responsibility for EH&S services to the Syntex chemical, pharmaceutical and research units. He holds a B.Sc. degree in Occupational Health Sciences and Biological Science from California State University at Hayward and he has done graduate work in industrial hygiene at the University of Southern California and the University of Utah. His expertise includes the safety & control of potent pharmaceutical compounds, environmental protection, environmental remediation, industrial hygiene, and laboratory safety.

He has over thirty years of experience including eighteen years with Syntex/Roche. He is a member of the American Industrial Hygiene Association, AIHA's Exposure & Control Banding Committee, the International Society of Pharmaceutical Engineers, and the Occupational Hygiene Society of Ireland.

Applying Occupational & Environmental Hazard Exposure & Risk Management Processes

David Zalk, PhD, CIH, FAIHA

EH&S Manager

Lawrence Livermore National Laboratories

David Zalk is the Environmental Health & Safety Deputy Team Leader at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. He is also the Director of Occupational Hygiene for the University of Illinois at Chicago's Global Program in Occupational Health Practice online course. He is the former International Hygiene Association President and currently serves as their envoy to the World Health Organization. He has led numerous national and international committees over the last three decades, including AIHA's Exposure Control & Banding Committee. David has published several books and articles on control and hazard banding. David is recognized worldwide as an expert on Control Banding and qualitative strategies for risk assessment and risk management. David remains actively involved in research and development within the greater occupational health and safety sciences.

The Risk Assessment & Control Landscape

Donna Heidel, MS, CIH, FAIHA

Sr. IH Manager

Bureau Veritas North America; AIHA Board

Donna S. Heidel is the Industrial Hygiene Practice Leader for Bureau Veritas North America where she leads the development of industrial hygiene services to support the effective management of occupational health risks associated with emerging technologies. Prior to her employment with Bureau Veritas she coordinated the Prevention through Design program at the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, including the benefits of occupational exposure banding and control banding for "designing in" containment and controls for materials without authoritative OELs. Ms. Heidel also has experience in the pharmaceutical industry, including 15 years at Johnson & Johnson, as the World Wide Director of Industrial Hygiene. While at J&J, she supported the development and implementation of engineering containment and control systems for high-potency drugs. She is certified by the American Board of Industrial Hygiene (CIH), and is an AIHA fellow. She also serves on the AIHA Board of Directors. She is the past chair of the AIHA Control Banding Working Group.
