

Susan Mazarella, LEED AP
Regional Sales Manager / Principal Consultant
EORM

Susan has over 15 years of consulting experience in the environmental, health, safety and sustainability field. While working at EORM, she has focused on developing and implementing innovative EHS&S programs that address the challenges of our new global economy. Susan holds a degree in Business Administrative Studies from UC Riverside and is a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Accredited Professional through the US Green Building Council. She is responsible for overseeing EORM's business development activities in the Pacific Southwest and thrives on finding opportunities where EHS&S is a major contributor to a company's triple bottom line. Susan considers herself to be a "greeneologist" – one who studies the history of being green!
